

Standings

The image displays four circular photographs of various buildings at the University of Birmingham, connected by a network of red lines. The buildings shown are:

- Left: A modern building with a dark facade and large windows, identified as the Law School.
- Top Center: A large, historic red brick building with many windows, identified as the School of Business.
- Bottom Center: A modern building with a curved glass facade, identified as the School of Architecture.
- Right: A building with a prominent glass and red metal structure, identified as the School of Engineering.

